Abstracts

Global Adhesive Film Market is valued at approximately USD 58.89 billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 4.6 % over the forecast period 2022-2028. Adhesive Film is a popular ingredient produced from fermented salted anchovies or other fishes for up to two years. Adhesive Film offers a rich, savory, earthy, and umami flavor to numerous meals, including pad Thai, pho, green papaya salad, and stir-fries, and is most widely used in Southeast Asian cookery. Rise in demand from medical industry, use of adhesive tapes in aerospace vertical, rise in product efficiency and customer service, rising investment and partnership among key players have driven the adoption of Adhesive Film across the projected period. For Instance: Yongle Tape Company Ltd., a manufacturer of speciality tapes and related products for a variety of industrial sectors, was acquired by Avery Dennison Corporation in February 2017. Yongle Tape would be part of Avery Dennison's Industrial and Healthcare Materials division, working closely with the company's worldwide Performance Tapes and Fastener Solutions divisions. Also, rise in demand of Bioplastic polymer and use of recyclable polymer, adhesives films and liners are most likely to boost the overall growth of the Adhesive Film market. However, fluctuations in raw materials prices and imposition of regulatory guidelines can obstruct the market's expansion over the projection period of 2022-2028.

The key regions considered for the global Adhesive Film market study include Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America and Rest of the World. North America is the leading region across the world. Rising consumer demand and presence of key players are driving the market growth in North America. Whereas, Asia Pacific is also anticipated to exhibit the highest growth rate over the forecast period 2022-2028. The market is expected to grow during the projected period, due to cheap labor availability and favorable government policies,
