Abstracts

Global Arak Market is valued approximately USD XX billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than XX% over the forecast period 2022-2029. Arak is a type of anise-based distilled beverage that is served without added sugar. The traditional alcoholic drink known as arak is considered the national beverage of Lebanon in Western Asia. The major ingredients of the beverage are grapes and aniseed from the anise plant, which gives the beverage its licorice flavour thanks to the chemical anethole. Arak was traditionally prepared and consumed in the past, but as technology and ingenuity advanced, commercial production of the beverage became commonplace. The drink is made using a triple distillation process and fermentation, and some variants additionally include the addition of dates, sugar, plums, figs, and molasses. Arak often has an alcohol level between 40 to 60%. The increasing consumption of alcoholic beverages and growing awareness towards traditional drinks as well as strategic initiatives from market players are key factors driving the market growth.

The increasing consumption of alcoholic beverages is contributing to the growth of the Global Arak Market. For instance, as per Statista – in 2020, the consumption of alcoholic beverages in India was estimated at 4.86 billion liters, and the consumption is projected to grow to 6.21 billion liters by 2024. Moreover, according to Statista – as of 2022, the revenue in the Alcoholic Drinks market is estimated at USD 1,484 billion, and the market is expected to grow annually by 10.01% (CAGR 2022-2025) to reach to USD 1975.74 billion by 2025. Also, growing travel & tourism sector and rising emergence of online distribution channels would create lucrative growth prospectus for the market over the forecast period. However, increased competition and availability of other alcoholic beverages stifle the market growth throughout the forecast period of 2022-2029.

The key regions considered for the Global Arak Market study includes Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and Rest of the World. Middle East and Africa (MEA) dominated the market in terms of revenue, owing to the dominance of leading market players and increasing consumption of Arak drink in the region. Whereas Asia Pacific is expected to grow with a highest CAGR during the forecast period, owing to factors such as rising popularity of traditional alcoholic beverages and increasing number of pubs and bars in the region.
