Global Breathable Tape Market is valued approximately USD XX million in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than XX % over the forecast period 2022-2028. The Breathable Tape can be defined as medical tape or surgical tape is a pressure sensitive adhesive tape used in surgical procedures, first aid and medicine among others. Breathable Tape allows the skin to breathe without causing irritation. These tapes are made from different materials such as Paper, Polyethylene (PE), and non-woven Fabric among others. The rising worldwide prevalence of road traffic injuries and growing incidence of healthcare acquired infections as well as increasing penetration of surgical operations and procedures are factors that are accelerating the global market demand. For instance, according to World Health Organization (WHO)'s estimate – as of 2021, around 1.3 million people die each year from road traffic crashes. Around 20 and 50 million more people suffer non-fatal injuries. Furthermore, In October 2019, 3M completed acquisition of Acelyty, Inc. Acelyty specializes in wound care and specialty surgical applications marketed under the KCI brand name. Also, rising healthcare spending in developed economies and growing awareness towards medical injuries are anticipated to act as a catalyzing factor for the market demand during the forecast period. However, availability of advanced wound care products and volatile Cost of raw material impede the growth of the market over the forecast period of 2022-2028.

The key regions considered for the global Breathable Tape Market study include Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and the Rest of the World.
