Abstracts

Global Calcium Peroxide Market is valued at approximately USD XX billion in 2022 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 4% over the forecast period 2023-2030. A mixture of calcium salts and hydrogen peroxide yields, the inorganic chemical known as calcium peroxide. The original calcium peroxide compound is white, however commercial versions of the substance seem yellow. Nearly insoluble in water, calcium peroxide hydrolyzes and releases oxygen when it encounters water. When calcium peroxide is exposed to acid, hydrogen peroxide is produced. It has excellent oxidizing properties, making it suited for usage in agricultural sectors to preserve soil quality and productivity of production. The market has significant drivers such as an increase in the Utilization of Dough Conditioner in the Food Industry and an increase in Usage in the Oral Care Industry.

According to Statista, at an estimated 688 billion cubic meters annually, India withdraws the most water for agriculture globally. China came second, extracting 385 billion cubic meters yearly for its agricultural industry. About 72% of the world's water withdrawals are for agricultural use. In South Africa, organic agriculture was practiced on over 41,000 hectares of agricultural land in 2020. This was an increase of little about 30.000 hectares from the previous year. The total area of land utilized for organic farming in the nation fluctuated greatly, reaching a peak in 2009 at close to 60,000 hectares. Moreover, Increasing Demand from Food and Beverage Industry and increasing environmental concerns regarding soil remediation and oil-spill recovery are the market opportunities boosting growth in the forecast years. However, the potential Hazardous Effects of Calcium Peroxide stifle market growth throughout the forecast period of 2023-2030.

The key regions considered for the Global Calcium Peroxide Market study includes Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and Middle East & Africa. Asia Pacific is leading as well as fastest growing region owing to the constant introduction of new food products., advent of modern supermarkets, and increasing urbanization, changing food habits, and constantly growing consumption of minerals.
