Abstracts

Global Carbonated Soft Drink Market is valued approximately at USD 221.6 billion in 2020 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 4.7% over the forecast period 2021-2027. Carbonated soft drinks are non-alcoholic beverages produced using caffeine, clean water, sugar, artificial flavoring elements, natural sweeteners, fruit juice concentrations, preservatives, and coloring agents. Availability of products across the well-spread large scale food providers and rising demand for low-calorie, gluten free and low-carb beverages are fueling the growth. . Also, new product launch by the market players is boosting the demand in the market. For instance, in October 2020, Indian dairy company Amul entered the soft drink market by launching the AmulTru Seltzer. Also, according to Statista, in 2019, low calorie and no calorie carbonated soft drinks largest market share of 62% as compared to regular and mid calories carbonated drinks which had market share of 30.1% and 7.9%. The drink was a blend of fruits, fizz, and dairy and was available in the orange and lemon flavors. Furthermore, technological advances in production process such as labelling and packaging has speed up the production, which is expected to boost the demand in coming years. However, health issues such as obesity, type 2 diabetes and others due to excess consumption of carbonated drinks may hamper the market during forecast period.

Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and Rest of the World are considered for the regional analysis of the global Carbonated Soft Drink Market. North America is the leading region across the world in terms of market share due to presence of some prominent market player in the region such as The Coca Cola Co. and PepsiCo and increasing demand among younger generation. Whereas Middle East and Africa are anticipated to exhibit the highest growth rate over the forecast period 2021-2027, due to growing disposable income, rapid urbanization and launch of new products in the region.
