Abstracts

Global Contract Development and Manufacturing Organization Market is valued at approximately USD 254.89 billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 10% over the forecast period 2022-2029. Contract development and manufacturing organization (CDMO) is also known as a contract manufacturing organization, which supports various pharmaceutical companies in the introduction of novel formulas or products without any additional infrastructure investment to support it. The market growth is driven by the factors such as the cost-effectiveness of outsourcing drug manufacturing and development services, rising incidences of various chronic diseases, coupled with the growing geriatric population across the globe.

The demand for biopharmaceutical and pharmaceutical products is rising owing to the increasing disease burden, which is accelerating market growth. As per the Statista analysis, the overall spending on pharmaceutical research and development in 2020 accounted for USD 198 billion, which is projected to grow and reach USD 254 billion by 2026. Also, The International Trade Administration (ITA) stated that Japan is recorded as the largest pharmaceutical market in the world, which is valued at USD 109.6 million in 2020. Hence, the flourishing development of the pharmaceutical industry, coupled with the growing R&D investment and stipulating demand for biopharmaceuticals is exhibiting a positive influence on market growth. Furthermore, rising initiatives by the key market players for facility and service expansion, as well as an increase in the demand for clinical trial services are presenting various lucrative opportunities for market growth over the forecasting years. However, limited outsourcing opted for by big pharma companies and some quality issues associated with the outsourcing are challenging the market growth throughout the forecast period of 2022-2029.

The key regions considered for the Global Contract Development and Manufacturing Organization Market study include Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and the Rest of the World. North America dominated the market in terms of revenue, owing to the presence of well-established CDMOs, the growing need for reducing the disease burden, and rising favorable support. Whereas, the Asia Pacific is also expected to grow with the highest CAGR during the forecast period, owing to factors such as growing investment in R&D activities, as well as the presence of a highly skilled workforce in the regional market.
