Abstracts

Global Crab Market is valued approximately at USD XXXX billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 6.4% over the forecast period 2022-2029. The crab market is driven by rising demand for seafood owing to rising population income levels in developing countries. Another factor propelling the market growth is growing aquaculture sector and rising awareness about the health benefits of consuming shellfish, like crabs is contributing to the growth of market.

According to Statista, in 2021 the global sea food market was valued USD 253 billion and is anticipated to reach USD 336 billion by 2025. Also, according to International Trade Administration, in 2020, the global aquaculture was valued USD 204 billion and is anticipated to reach USD 262 billion by the end of 2026. As a result, rising demand for sea food and growing aquaculture will create lucrative demand for the market during forecast period. Also, as per same source, in FY 2015, per capita national income across India was 86.65 thousand INR (USD 1.05 thousand), and the number is anticipated to reach INR 150.33 thousand (USD 1.82 thousand). In addition, changing dietary preferences, towards healthy foods especially among young people is anticipated to create growth opportunity for the market during the forecast period. However, the growing vegan population stifles market growth throughout the forecast period of 2022-2029.

The key regions considered for the Global Crab Market study includes Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and Rest of the World. Asia Pacific is the dominating region across the world in terms of market share, owing to the rising consumption of crab from countries like China and Japan. Also, growing disposable income in the region is expected to drive the demand further. Whereas, North America is also anticipated to exhibit highest growth rate over the forecast period, owing to factors such as growing consumer awareness regarding the health benefits of consuming crab which would create lucrative growth prospects for the Crab Market across the North America.
