Global Dental Digital X-Ray Market is valued approximately at USD 2,791.15 million in 2018 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 8.7% over the forecast period 2019-2026. Dental Digital X-Ray is also known as dental digital radiography. It is a preventive approach in which X-rays pass via any soft tissue as in the gum. Then it gets immersed by thick tissues that deliver an image. Dental digital X-ray utilizes an electronic sensor rather than the traditional X-ray film to capture X-ray images. It enables dentists to treat common dental problems such as dental infections, cavities, and diseases associated with the gums. It has become a favored modality recently, as they are more convenient and safer when compared to traditional imaging techniques. Growing geriatric population with high risk of dental diseases, technological advancement in dental imaging techniques and favorable regulations & government initiatives are the few factors responsible for high CAGR of the market over the forecast period. For instance, As per the United Nations Organization, the global population of age of 60 years and above are nearly 962 million in 2017, up from twice as large as of 382 million since 1980. Also, it is projected that the population aged 60 and above will reach to almost to 2.1 billion by 2050. Moreover, growing medical tourism along with the development of AI-based digital X-ray systems is major factor which creates lucrative growth opportunities for the growth of market in the upcoming years. However, lack of reimbursements for dental care and high costs of dental digital X-ray equipment are the few factor anticipated to restraining the growth of global Dental Digital X-Ray market during the forecast period.

The regional analysis of global Dental Digital X-Ray Market is considered for the key regions such as Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America and Rest of the World. North America is the leading/significant region across the world in terms of market share owing to the improved improving healthcare infrastructure, favorable government infections and increasing incidences of dental infections in the region. However, Asia-Pacific is anticipated to exhibit highest growth rate / CAGR over the forecast period 2019-2026. Factors such as increasing aging population and rising incidences of dental problems among people would fuel-up the adoption of Dental Digital X-Ray in the Asia-Pacific region.
