Abstracts

Global Dried Fruits Market is valued approximately at USD xx Billion in 2020 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than xx% over the forecast period 2021-2027. Dried Fruits are widely consumed as they are good source of nutrients including fiber, high source of antioxidants, and others. The global dried fruits market is being driven by growing demand for health and wellness food products as dried fruits are used in food products. According to Statista, health and wellness food market is projected to increase from USD 768.2 billion in 2019 to USD 811.82 billion by 2021. Another important driving factor is the increasing production of dried fruits around the world. According to Global Cashews Council 2020 data, world production of cashews ranges between 720,000 and 790,000 metric tons per year. Furthermore, less perishability and easy to carry properties contributes for go snacking, increasing adoption of healthy lifestyle and enhancing end-use applications such as bakery, dairy, snack, will provide new opportunities for the global Dried Fruits industry. However, high obesity and hypersensitivity to certain fruits may impede market growth over the forecast period of 2021-2027.

The regional analysis for the global Dried Fruits Market is based on the key regions such as Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and Rest of the World. Europe is the leading region across the world in terms of market share owing to presence of established companies and high awareness regarding consumption of healthy food. Whereas Asia-Pacific is also anticipated to exhibit the highest CAGR over the forecast period 2021-2027 due to increasing production of dried fruits, rising purchasing power and large consumer base in the region.
