Abstracts

Global Film Distribution Market is valued approximately at USD XXX billion in 2019 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than XX % over the forecast period 2020-2026. Film distribution is the process of making a movie available for viewing by an audience. This is normally the task of a professional film distributor who would determine the marketing strategy for the film, the media by which a film is to be exhibited or made available for viewing, and who may set the release date and other matters. The rising film industry across the globe specially the Hollywood and Bollywood drive the market towards growth. As with increase in number of movies being made the need for proper distribution and launch increases. As per Statista, the Global Box office revenue amounted to USD 38 billion in 2016 and is projected to reach USD 50 billion by 2020. These Film are targeted towards a particular section of the population and the film distributors make sure the film reaches that targeted set of audience. These are decided through multiple analysis of customer preference, aged group and culture. Hence film distribution is an integral part of the film industry. However, rising piracy in the industry impedes the growth of the market over the forecast period of 2020-2026. Although, with the digitization of the film industry the availability of the films online on multiple paid applications such as Netflix has introduced a segment into the film distribution market. This online distribution of the films presents an opportunistic market for growth. As the producers are shifting towards selling these films on these applications owing to the large consumer base and rising trend. Hence propelling a growing market during the forecast period.

such as Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America and Rest of the World. North America is the leading/significant region across the world in terms of market share owing to easy availability of online films in the region coupled with dominant trend of binge watching on Online applications. Whereas, Asia-Pacific is also anticipated to exhibit highest growth rate / CAGR over the forecast period 2020-2026. Factors such as rising population coupled with rising disposable income and introduction of various online applications of Asian origin such as Hotstar would create lucrative growth prospects for the Film Distribution market across Asia-Pacific region.
