Abstracts

Global Filter press Market is valued approximately USD XX billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than XX% over the forecast period 2022-2029. A filter press is a type of equipment for solid-liquid separation that works on the concept of pressure feeding. It has recessed plates or frames that are arranged differently and a collection of filter plates that are arranged sequentially. One of the major factors driving the worldwide filter press market is the rising awareness of the necessity to treat wastewater to fulfil the demand for water. Growing adoption of new water treatment plants is a result of an increasing water shortage over time and very slow groundwater.

In 2021, Statista estimated that the global market for water and wastewater treatment was worth USD 281.75 billion. By 2029, the market is anticipated to have grown by 7.1% year between 2022 and 2029, reaching a projected value of over 490 billion US dollars. Additionally, according to the United Nations Water Organization, 56% of worldwide household wastewater flows were properly treated in 2020. (extrapolated from data from 128 countries representing 80 per cent of the global population). However, rising usage of advanced next generation filter press stifles market growth throughout the forecast period of 2022-2029.

The key regions considered for the Global Filter press Market study includes Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and Rest of the World. North America is leading the global market share owing to rise in the number of chemical and pharmaceutical industries. However, Asia Pacific is expected to be the fastest growing region due to growth of food and beverage, and growing number of food processing industries in the developing countries such as India.

Major market player included in this report are:

KOTON Industrial Group
