Abstracts

Global Frankincense Extract Market is valued at approximately USD XX billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than XX% over the forecast period 2022-2029. Frankincense Extract also known as Indian frankincense, is a resin herbal extract from the boswellia tree. Frankincense has a woody aroma, and it is considered rich in a wide range of health properties including anti-inflammatory, antiseptic, anxiolytic and anti-neurotic among others. Moreover, owing to its anti-inflammatory properties it is widely used in aromatherapy, and in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis, inflammatory bowel disease, and asthma disease. The increasing demand for essential oils worldwide and growing use of frankincense extracts in pharmaceuticals as well as strategic initiatives from leading market players are key factors accelerating the market growth.

The growing demand for essential oils due to rising popularity of aromatherapy is contributing to the Global Frankincense Market. For instance, according to Statista – in 2019, the global demand for essential oils was estimated at 290.54 kilotons, and as per projections, the demand is projected to grow to 404.2 kilotons by 2025. Furthermore, as per Statista – in FY 2020, the total export value of ayurvedic and herbal products was USD 428.08 million, and as per projections, the total export volume is projected to grow to USD 612 million by end of FY 2022. Also, growing incidences of arthritis and asthma and rising expansion of food & beverage industry would create a lucrative growth prospectus for the market over the forecast period. However, limited availability of raw materials and high extraction costs associated with Frankincense Extract stifle market growth throughout the forecast period of 2022-2029.

The key regions considered for the Global Frankincense Extract Market study include Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and Rest of the World. Asia Pacific dominated the market in terms of revenue, owing to the dominance of branded products and rising expansion of medical tourism coupled with increasing popularity of aromatherapy in the region. Whereas Asia Pacific is expected to grow with the highest CAGR during the forecast period, owing to factors such as rising consumption of herbal healthcare supplements as well as increasing demand for essential oils in the region.
