Abstracts

Global Geofoams Market is valued approximately USD 739.4 million in 2018 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 6.3% over the forecast period 2019-2026. Geofoams are extruded polystyrene (XPS) or expanded polystyrene (EPS) which are manufactured into lightweight blocks that come with desired strength and protection against heat or frost. Geofoams are polymer-based materials and are categorized under cellular geosynthetics. The construction industry is the primary consumer of geofoams, having application in road repair and in other concrete parts of a building. Further, infrastructural growth in emerging economies, such as China, India, Brazil, Saudi Arabia, UAE, and Mexico is one of the key factors driving the adoption of Geofoams across the forecast period. Also, innovations in the field of geofoams for the development of low-cost and effective geofoam products as well as maintenance of existing infrastructure in developed countries is expected to fuel the demand for Geofoams.

The regional analysis of global Geofoams market is considered for the key regions such as Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America and Rest of the World. Asia Pacific is the leading/significant region across the world in terms of market share owing to the rising economies in the region like China, Japan, south Korea. With growing infrastructure spending by the government and robust growth in residential and commercial construction are expected to drive the demand for geofoams in the region.

Whereas, Asia-Pacific is also anticipated to exhibit highest growth rate / CAGR over the forecast period 2019-2026.
