Abstracts

Global Glass Facade Market is valued at approximately USD 70.84 billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 3.90 % over the forecast period 2022-2028. Façade is a French term that means 'front face' or 'front of a building.' The use of glass in the outer facades provided greater light and a pleasant environment for the building's occupants. Rising investment in construction activities, rising manufacturing growth, and rising green building projects have driven the adoption of Glass Facade across the projected period. For Instance: Nestle's headquarters buildings in 2021 decided to increase their energy efficiency by incorporating smart glass from Sage Glass. The new glazing provides employees with a great outside view, plenty of natural light, and manages the heat inflow from the sun. Also, rising acquisitions among key players and rising environmental concerns are most likely to boost the overall growth of the Glass Facade Market. However, high cost of raw materials, rise in energy costs, and threat of substitutes can obstruct the Market's expansion over the projection period of 2022-2028.

The key regions considered for the Global Glass Facade Market study include Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America and Rest of the World. Asia Pacific is the leading region across the world. Rising construction and evolving trends are driving the Market growth in U.S. and Canada.
