Abstracts

Global Golf Clubs Market is valued approximately USD XXX billion in 2019 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than XX % over the forecast period 2020-2027. Golf Club is a stick used to hit the golf ball in the game of golf. The club contains a shaft with a grip and a club head. The major material utilized for manufacture of the club is wood and such wooden clubs are mainly used for long distance fairway while clubs made from other materials such as Iron, Putters and hybrid are used according to the variety of shots. The market growth is primarily driven by increasing consumers disposable income, growth in professional and amateur golfers. As per Statista, in 2017, the number of golf participants in the U.S. stood at approximately 23.83 million. Around 8.8 million of these participants are said to be avid golfers. While as per Club managers Association of Europe there were 4.15 million registered golfers in Europe. Further, the rising number of golf courses across the globe fuel the market growth. For Instance: Europe had almost 7000 standard golf courses by 2017. However, adoption of other games and high golf membership costs impedes the growth of the market over the forecast period of 2020-2027.

The regional analysis of global Golf Clubs market is considered for the key regions such as Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America and Rest of the World. Europe is the leading/significant region across the world in terms of market share owing to the growing number of golfers population and rising number of golf courses in the region. Whereas, Asia-Pacific is also anticipated to exhibit highest growth rate / CAGR over the forecast period 2020-2027. Factors such as rising disposable income and trend of Golf would create lucrative growth prospects for the Golf Clubs market across Asia-Pacific region.
