Abstracts

Global Institutional Investor Market is valued approximately USD XX billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than XX% over the forecast period 2022-2029. Institutional Investor refers to company or organization that invests money on behalf of its clients and members. Mutual Fund, Hedge Funds, Pension Funds, Endowment Funds, Venture Capital are some of the examples of Institutional Investors. Institutional charges some certain amount of service from their clients. The Institutional Investor market is expanding because of factors such as increasing incidence of diabetes and growing investments through FinTech as well as strategic initiatives from leading market players.

According to Statista – in 2019, around Indian startups received 275 investment deals from angle investors, and it further increased to 341 in FY 2020. Moreover, as per Statista – in 2019, the total net assets of US-registered mutual funds worldwide were estimated at USD 21.28 trillion, and this number further increased to USD 26.96 trillion in 2021. Also, growing emergence of sustainability investment and rising application of AI & ML in Investing would create lucrative growth prospectus for the market over the forecast period. However, the risk associated with security market impedes the market growth throughout the forecast period of 2022-2029.

The key regions considered for the Global Institutional Investor Market study includes

Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and Rest of the World. North America is the leading region in terms of market share due to presence of leading hedge funds and angel investors as well as increasing investment in mutual funds in the region. Whereas Asia Pacific is expected to grow significantly during the forecast period, owing to factors such as rising expansion of mutual funds industry as well as increasing penetration of leading market players in the region.

Major market player included in this report are:

UBS Group

Bank of America Corporation

Credit Suisse Group

JPMorgan Chase & Co.

Morgan Stanley
