Abstracts

Global Luxury Hair Care Market is valued approximately USD 21.14 billion in 2020 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 6.04 % over the forecast period 2021-2027. Hair care refers to all of that people do to keep their hair clean, healthy-looking, and attractive, and premium hair care refers to high-end hair care products. The increasing hair and scalp issues and the increasing awareness regarding personal grooming and increasing consumer spending on premium quality hair care products are expected to drive the market for the upcoming period. Change in lifestyle and urbanization is attracting the consumer towards luxury hair care products.

Dermatologically proven and high quality hair care products are more preferred as they are more reliable and safe. According to a journal of Foundation de la Haute Horlogerie (2019), in the period 2018-2025, the luxury goods market is expected to grow from $260 billion to $320 billion. As per the Health & Beauty Association, the sales of conditioners increased from $344 million to $341.59 million, accounting for the period 2018-2019. However, side effects of chemicals used in hair care products and high costs of luxury hair care products hampers the growth of the market over the forecast period of 2021-2027. Also, rising production of organic hair care and manufacturers' investments in R&D of new hair care products to meet customer needs are opportunities to expand the market during the forecast period.

The geographical study of global luxury hair care market is considered for the major regions such as Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America and Rest of the World. Asia Pacific is the most significant region across the world in terms of market share owing to growing demand of organic luxury hair care products and the increasing awareness about the sustainable products. Whereas, North America is also anticipated to expand the market over the forecast period 2021-2027. Factors such as rising consumer demand for premium hair care products and increasing online beauty purchase would create huge demand for the Luxury Hair Care market across North American region.
