Abstracts

Global Luxury Leather Goods Market is valued approximately USD 52.92 billion in 2020 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 5.0 % over the forecast period 2021-2027. Luxury leather goods are made from the hides and skin of animals such as cattle, sheep, pigs, and others through a process called tanning. Best quality of leather is used in the manufacturing of these goods. Premium quality of the products; design, fitting, craftsmanship, quality are the main reasons for driving the growth of luxury leather goods market. Brand loyalty, urbanization, and changing lifestyle of the people has driven the market of luxury leather goods across the forecast period. Inclination of people towards trendy bags, premium wallets and classy shoes are driving the market for luxury leather goods. In addition to this, the increasing adoption of leather goods as they are dustproof, fireproof and crack proof which makes them more durable. According to the report of United States International Trade Commission, in 2017, the total footwear exports of US increased from $62 million in 2016 to $ 1.4 billion in 2017. Also, according to the report by India Brand Equity Foundation, in period 2019-2020, the Indian export of leather and leather products was $5.07 billion. According to a journal of Foundation de la Haute Horlogerie, in 2019, in the period 2018-2025, the luxury goods market is expected to grow from $260 billion to $320 billion. However, increasing trend of purchasing second hand branded goods, increasing market of first copy branded goods and high cost of luxury products is likely to restrain the growth of the market over the forecast period of 2021-2027. Also, with the increasing influence of social media influencers and celebrities, rise in development of sustainable and customized luxury goods, growing awareness regarding branded goods, and increase in disposable income of the people is likely to increase the market

The main regions for the geographical study of the Global Luxury Leather Goods market are Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and the Rest of the World. Europe is the most dominating region across the world in terms of market share due to the presence of prominent luxury brands and their manufacturing units and large consumer market for high end goods in the region. Over the projected period 2021-2027, Asia-Pacific is expected to have the highest growth. Factors such as increasing consumer awareness and brand awareness with increasing penetration rate for luxury Leather Goods would create lucrative growth prospects for the Luxury Leather Goods market across Asia-Pacific region.
