Abstracts

Global Plasterboard Market is valued approximately USD 23.85 billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 5.7% over the forecast period 2022-2028.

Plasterboards are majorly used in the construction of frames as internal wall boards like ceiling lining for preventing noise transmission. Plasterboards are available in various sizes and thicknesses are eco-friendly and also cut down the accumulated moisture in kitchens and bathrooms. The rapid urbanization, rising inclination towards dry construction techniques compared to wet construction methods, ease of installation, and replacement of plasterboard, coupled with the technological developments in extrusion and processing are the factors that are stimulating the global market demand. For instance, as per the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD), nearly 4.2 billion inhabitants (55% of the population) are living in urban areas. Also, this trend is likely to grow and with that, the urban population is projected to get more than double and reached 7 of 10 people in urban regions worldwide. Consequentially, increasing urbanization is propelling the plasterboards demand owing to rising construction activity, thus, in turn, augments the market growth in the near future. However, a lack of awareness regarding the recyclability of plasterboard among end-users and environmental concerns and imposition of government regulations on plasterboard disposal impede the growth of the market over the forecast period of 2022-2028. Also, rising new construction activity in developing economies and increasing investment in infrastructural development projects are anticipated to act as a catalyzing factor for the market demand during the forecast period.

The key regions considered for the global Plasterboard market study include Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and the Rest of the World. The Asia Pacific is the leading region across the world in terms of market share owing to the rising adoption of plasterboard in end-use sectors like public, residential, and commercial segments and increasing industrialization and urbanization. Whereas, Asia-Pacific is also anticipated to exhibit the highest CAGR over the forecast period 2022-2028. Factors such as the presence of a huge consumer base, as well as investments in new building constructions and renovation activities, would create lucrative growth prospects for the Plasterboard market across the Asia-Pacific region.
