Abstracts

Global Premium Spirit Market is valued approximately USD 130.91 billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 10.3% over the forecast period 2022-2028. The increased demand of high-end drinks among the millennial generation has fueled global industry expansion. Cocktail sales, such as margaritas, martinis, and manhattans, have grown dramatically in North America and Europe's developed economies. Furthermore, the growing popularity of cocktail culture in developing countries such as China and India are expected to expand the availability of premium spirits. Over the last few years, the expansion of the high-end alcohol market has outpaced that of the broader industry, pushing global alcohol consumption higher. According to the Distilled Spirits Council, both income and volume of spirits have been setting records in the United States for the ninth consecutive year, increasing the country's share of the worldwide alcoholic beverage market. Millennials have made up a large share of alcohol drinkers in recent years, and this trend is expected to continue over the forecast period. The generation has significant purchasing power and is of legal drinking age (LDA). Furthermore, premium spirits are created with natural components and are of higher quality than standard liquor. These elements are projected to propel the market forward during the forecast period. The rise in disposable income is primarily driving the premium spirit sector. Customers with a lot of money have access to the greatest grade spirits. Customers are willing to pay more for high-quality, premium products as they become more aware of their drinking habits. Also, , the growing tendency of young people frequent pubs and bars is likely to propel the industry ahead. Dough Ball announced its expansion into numerous states around the United States in June 2022 in order to broaden its geographical reach. Diageo in January 2022 announced the investment of USD 87.62 million to open a new brewery in London dubbed 'Guinness at Old Brewer's Yard.' It is scheduled to open in the fall of 2023. Brown-Forman Corporation and The Coca-Cola Company announced a global cooperation in June 2022 and the debut of a ready-to-drink mixed cocktail containing Jack Daniels and coke. It is scheduled to debut in Mexico in late 2022. However, rising government alcohol laws and rising consumer health concern hinder market growth throughout the forecast period of 2022-2028.

The key regions considered for the Global Premium Spirit Market study includes Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and Rest of the World. Asia Pacific had the highest volume share in the market. Rising social media usage and increased health awareness have fueled the region's desire for high-quality spirits. Customers want minimal alcohol content and real drinks. Growing bar culture in developing countries such as China, India, and Thailand have fueled regional market expansion. Furthermore, rising disposable income, coupled with economic progress, is a crucial component in enhancing the region's capacity to purchase high-quality and luxury spirits.
