Global Pressure Sensor Market is valued approximately USD 12.5 billion in 2019 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 8.9 % over the forecast period 2020-2027. Pressure sensor are devices that measures, and transmits data pertaining to fluid and speed, gas flow, water level, and altitude. Pressure sensor are used for evaluating human medical conditions, and wearable medical devices . Pressure sensor are used in various sectors including automotive, consumer electronics, oil and gas, healthcare, and industrial sector. The global pressure sensor market is facing challenges due to COVID-19 as disruption to the manufacturing, as well as the supply chain of pressure sensors in many countries. The advancements in microelectromechanical(MEMS) sensors, increase in demand from automotive and medical industries, stringent passenger safety regulations and increasing use of pressure sensors in smartphones are the factors responsible for the market growth over the forecast period. Furthermore, the rising advancements and other strategic alliance by market key players will create a lucrative demand for this market. For instance: in October 2019, Honeywell agreed into a contract with Surrey Sensors to to deliver its TruStability RSC Series and HSC Series pressure sensors for integration into measurement systems having application in the aerospace industry. However, intense pricing pressure and fluctuating raw material prices are is the major factors restraining the growth of global Pressure Sensor market during the forecast period.

The regional analysis of global Pressure Sensor Market is considered for the key regions such as Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America and Rest of the World. North America is the leading/significant region across the world in terms of market share owing to the evolving automobile and industrial manufacturing companies and the rising demand for pressure sensors.
