Abstracts

Global Quartz Sink Market is valued at approximately USD 258.6 billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 5.0% over the forecast period 2022-2029. Quartz sinks are created with a composite of acrylic and quartz (generally 20% acrylic and 80% quartz). These sinks offer better strength, flexibility, durability, heat, scratch, and stain resistance, bacteria and odour resistance, and many other properties. The surging demand for aesthetic kitchen products, increase in the number of restaurants, hotels, and hospitals, coupled with the growth of construction sector is propelling the market demand across the globe.

According to Statista, in 2018, construction expenditure in private sector accounted for USD 1,023.02 billion and public sector for USD 310.17 billion across the United States, which reached USD 1140.91 billion in private sector and USD 355.54 billion in public sector in 2020. Therefore, the rising spending on construction activities is exhibiting a positive influence on the growth of the quartz sink market. Moreover, increase in disposable income and rising inclination towards luxury homes are creating lucrative opportunities for the market over the forecasting years. However, adoption of laminated kitchen countertops and chance of water overflow is associated with the quartz sink as it does not include rims and borders which are restricting the market growth throughout the forecast period of 2022-2029.

The key regions considered for the Global Quartz Sink Market study include Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and the Rest of the World. Europe dominated the space in terms of revenue, owing to the increasing consumer spending on elegant-looking products for their homes and rising presence of key market players. Whereas, the Asia Pacific is expected to grow significantly during the forecast period. Factors such as rising number of residential units, as well as increasing government-led residential and commercial construction projects, are burgeoning the market growth in the forecasting years.
