Abstracts

Global Remote Workplace Services Market is valued at approximately USD XX billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than XX% over the forecast period 2022-2029. Remote workplace services is a mode of work that enable employees to carry out essential job responsibilities from outside traditional office space. It assists in the concentration on the core competencies and enhance productivity. The rising emphasis on better employee engagement and initiatives, and rapid digitalization, coupled with the increasing demand for desktop-as-a-service are the primary factors that are propelling the market demand across the globe.

According to Statista, in 2020, the spending on digital transformation technologies and services worldwide accounted for around USD 1.31 trillion, which is anticipated to reach approximately USD 2.8 trillion by 2025. Accordingly, the growing expenditure on digital transformation technologies and services is exhibiting a positive influence on the growth of the Remote Workplace Services Market. Moreover, cost reduction and improved productivity in remote services, as well as increasing investment in technological developments are presenting various lucrative opportunities for market growth over the forecasting years. However, internet connectivity issues and security risks involved, and low readiness to adopt advanced solutions are hindering market growth throughout the forecast period of 2022-2029.

The key regions considered for the Global Remote Workplace Services Market study include Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and the Rest of the World. North America dominated the space in terms of revenue, owing to the rising proliferation of Cloud Native Storage, along with the presence of leading market vendors such as Google, Microsoft, Unisys, IBM, and VMware. Whereas, the Asia Pacific is expected to grow significantly during the forecast period, owing to factors such as rising availability of IT budgets, surging demand for emerging technologies, and rising focus on digitalization.

Major market players included in this report are:

Wipro

HCL Technologies

TCS

Accenture

IBM

Hewlett Packard Enterprise

DXC Technology

Microsoft
