Abstracts

Global Royal Jelly Market is valued approximately USD XX billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than XX % over the forecast period 2022-2028. Royal jelly is a White colored secretion which is produced by worker bees for consumption of the queen bee. Royal jelly is also known Honeybee's Milk. Royal jelly is widely used as an herbal supplement. It also helps in slowing down premature skin aging and reduces dark spots linked to age. Growing Healthcare industry and rising health consciousness among consumers are key drivers for the growth of Royal Jelly market. For instance, according to World Health Organization (WHO)'s "Global expenditure on health: Public spending on the rise 2021 report"- Global spending on health more than doubled over the past two decades, reached to USD 8.5 trillion in 2019, or 9.8% of global GDP. Also, among a group of 29 countries that have been classified as high income since 2000, health spending per capita averaged USD 4,491 and accounted for 9% of GDP in 2019, up from USD 2,923 and 7% in 2000. Also, with the increasing disposable income and rising preference of e-commerce channels by leading market players, the adoption & demand for Royal Jelly is likely to increase the market growth during the forecast period. However, high cost of Royal Jelly and regulatory requirements impedes the growth of the market over the forecast period of 2022-2028.

The key regions considered for the global Royal Jelly market study includes Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and Rest of the World. Asia-Pacific is the leading region across the world in terms of market share owing to rising awareness for health and changing lifestyle patterns in the region. Whereas Asia-Pacific is also anticipated to exhibit highest growth rate over the forecast period 2022-2028. Factors such as the region being leading producer of royal jelly and rising medicinal application of royal jelly in the region would create lucrative growth prospects for the Royal Jelly market across Asia-Pacific region.
