Abstracts

Global Shipping Container Market is valued approximately at USD 6.41 billion in 2020 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 12.0% over the forecast period 2021-2027. Shipping containers are manufactured according to the guideline outlined by International Organization for Standardization (ISO), for enabling the smooth and hassle-free loading and unloading. They are designed to withstand the extreme environments and structural integrity during the transportation. The global Shipping Container market is being driven by growing agreement for long term maritime trade and rise in digitalization in the shipping container industry. Furthermore, the growing adoption of automation at containers terminals, as well as rising popularity of e-commerce sales, will provide new opportunities for the global Shipping Container industry. For instance, according to the report of International Chamber of Shipping, around 11 billion tons of goods are being transported through shipping containers every year. As a result, increase in trade activities and agreements across the world are expected to support the growth of the market. However, rise in freight cost, may impede market growth over the forecast period of 2021-2027.

Strong maritime trade from Asia Pacific countries makes the Asia-pacific the leading region across the world in terms of market share.
