Abstracts

Global Snack Pellets Market is valued at approximately USD XXX Billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than XX% over the forecast period 2022-2028. Snack pellets are high-density, expandable transitional products made by deformation from raw materials like potato, corn, tapioca, rice, legumes, as well as other cereals and vegetables. Thus, increasing customer preference for convenience foods and heavy demand and supply of various raw materials such as potato starch, corn starch, and wheat flour are factors contributing to the market growth. For instance: according to Statista, the retail sales of potatoes, in the USA went to USD 13.92 Billion, in the year 2020 from USD 11.91 Billion, in the year 2019 and USD 10.65 Billion, in the year 2018. However, highly competitive market players and new entrants impede the growth of the market over the forecast period of 2022-2028. Also, rising R&D activities and upgraded processing innovative techniques are likely to increase the growth of the market in the forecasting period.

The regional analysis of global Snack Pellets market includes Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America and Rest of the World for analysis and estimation. Europe is the leading region across the world in terms of market share owing to rising demand for the processed food and savory food in the region. whereas, Asia Pacific is also anticipated to exhibit the highest growth rate over the forecast period 2022-2028. Factors such as to high availability of raw material and labor would create lucrative growth prospects for the Snack Pellets market across Asia Pacific region.
