Abstracts

Global Topical Dispenser Market is valued at approximately USD 463.5 million in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 5.3% over the forecast period 2022-2029. Dispenser makes it easy and convenient to get an appropriate amount/quantity of an item or something. Topical Dispensers can be used to provide an accurate dosage of products to patients and it protects the product from environmental exposure and contamination. Increasing skin conditions, a booming geriatric population, and advancements in the product are the factors driving the growth of the market.

According to Health, Pharma & MedTech, in India, around 23% of the respondents suffered from skin conditions such as acne, psoriasis, and dandruff in 2021. According to the American Academy of Dermatology Association, 1 in 10 people suffer from atopic dermatitis during their lifetime. Dermatitis affects 25% of children and 2-3% of adults worldwide. Additionally, According to the world health organization, there were around 1 billion people aged above 60 years globally. Increasing skin conditions and a booming geriatric population are the major factors driving the growth of the market. Another important component driving market increase is advancements in products. Furthermore, advancements in formulation and availability of novel products are the factors creating major market opportunities in the forecast period. However, the lack of awareness of Topical dispensers stifles market growth throughout the forecast period of 2022-2029.

The key regions considered for the Global Topical Dispenser Market study includes

Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and Rest of the World. North America dominated the market in terms of revenue, owing to the rising number of psoriasis cases, increasing government spending on research and development, and growing demand for topical dispensers. Asia Pacific is expected to grow at the highest CAGR during the forecast period, owing to factors such as the rising incidence of skin disorders, the presence of key market players, rising foreign investment and technological advancement in the region.
