Global Torpedo Market to reach USD XX billion by 2027.

Global Torpedo Market is valued approximately at USD XX billion in 2020 and is anticipated to grow at a healthy growth rate of more than 4% over the forecast period 2021-2027. Anti-warship and anti-submarine torpedoes are self-propelled and self-guided weapons. Torpedoes are primarily used underwater and are designed to detonate on contact with or around the target. Torpedoes are generally launched from submarines or warships, while they may also be launched from planes or helicopters. The submarine or warship released torpedoes which are heavier in weight while the same released from an aircraft or helicopters are lighter in weight. The market is driven by the k increasing military spending and increasing threat of terrorism and border issues. For instance, as per Statista, The United States led the ranking of countries with highest military spending in 2020, with USD 778 billion dedicated to the military. That amounted to 39 percent of the total military spending in the globe in 2020, which was USD 1.98 trillion. As of 2019, the United States' military spending accounted for 3.4 percent of its gross domestic product (GDP), ranking it behind Saudi Arabia, Israel, and Russia in terms of military spending as a percentage of GDP. However, Rise in development of ballistic missiles protected submarines, may impede market growth over the forecast period of 2021-2027.

The Asia-Pacific region is expected to grow at faster rate over the projection period, owing to the region's rapid increase in military spending as a result of continuous geopolitical difficulties and border tensions. Countries such as China, India, and Japan, among others, are expanding their current naval fleets by purchasing new warships and submarines and replacing old naval vessels.
