Global Vegan Footwear Market is valued approximately USD 23.21 billion in 2019 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 7.20 % over the forecast period 2020-2027. Vegan Footwear are shoes made without any animal ingredients or by products such as wool, leather, silk, fur and more. The expansion of the ongoing trend of veganism from Kitchens to apparel and footwear industry drives the market for vegan footwear. The numerous benefits offered by these footwears fuel the market growth. Further, the growing awareness towards animal cruelty and rising demand for eco-friendly and ethical fashion augments the market growth. In September 2020, Dr. Martens collaborated with Fashion designer marc Jacob to create a limited -edition version of 1460 boot from vegan leather. Also, the nascent stage of the market not only attracts new manufacturers but also has attracted well established fashion brands to go vegan escalating the market growth. As in 2018 Guccio Gucci SpA announced to go fur free starting from its 2018 spring collection. Moreover, the benefit of reduced carbon footprint in vegan footwear production adds on to the growth rate owing to the growing environmental concerns and rising demand for sustainable production. However, lack of regulations and common standards impedes the growth of the market over the forecast period of 2020-2027. Although, representation of vegan footwear by celebrities presents a lucrative opportunity for the market. As in September 2020, Hollywood actress Catherine Zeta-Jones launched a vegan footwear collection in partnership with cruelty
