Abstracts

Global Vision Care Market is valued at approximately USD 78.02 billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 7.3% over the forecast period 2022-2029. Vision care is the health setting that deals with treatments, cosmetic modifications, and other procedures, products, and services related to the vision(eyes). The eye is a critical and important part of the body. It needs to be taken care of on a regular basis. The key factor driving the market growth is the rising geriatric population and the rising prevalence of visual inaccuracies and eye disorders. Thus, driving the market growth during the forecast period.

According to World Health Organization, the number of people 60 and older will rise from 1 billion in 2020 to 1.4 billion in 2021. The number of persons in the world who are 60 years or older will double by 2050. (2.1 billion). Between 2020 and 2050, the number of people 80 or older is projected to triple, reaching 426 million. As a result, the rise in the geriatric population would create a lucrative demand for the market. Also, growing awareness of vision care products and services will create lucrative opportunities for the market during the forecast period. However, the Contact lens-related complications stifle market growth throughout the forecast period of 2022-2029.

The key regions considered for the Global Vision Care Market study includes Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and the Rest of the World. North America is the dominating region across the world in terms of market share, owing to technological advancements, rising ocular disease, and favourable government reimbursement policy. Whereas, Asia Pacific is also anticipated to exhibit highest growth rate over the forecast period, owing to factors such as rising urbanization, coupled with technological advancements and growing investments that would create lucrative growth prospects for the global Vision Care Market across the Asia Pacific region.
