Abstracts

Global Wound Dressing Powder Market is valued approximately at USD XXX billion in 2019 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than XX% over the forecast period 2020-2027. Wound Dressing Powder is a non-prescription topical powder. The constituents of the powder are hydrophilic polymer and potassium ferrate. The powder is applied in combination with manual pressure to the wound so it quickly forms a strong scab that completely covers the wound and stops the bleeding. The major use of these wound dressing powder is in case of accidents and injuries. The rising number of Road traffic injuries drives the market growth. As per World Health Organization report of 2019, every year 1.35 million people die on roadways around the globe. Also, Road traffic injuries are estimated to be the 8th leading cause of death across the globe. Also, increasing first-aid kit awareness and utilization of these dressing powder in those first aid kits drives the market growth. These wound dressing powders are used after surgeries to enhance the skin healing process. Thus, the rising number of surgeries also aids the market growth. More than 200 million surgeries are performed worldwide every year in hospitals, according to CDC and The National Center for Health Statistics. However, availability of alternative products impedes the growth of the market over the forecast period of 2020-2027.

The regional analysis of global Wound Dressing Powder market is considered for the key regions such as Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America and Rest of the World. North America is the leading/significant region across the world in terms of market share owing to the growing consumer awareness and rise in number of surgeries. Whereas, Asia-Pacific is also anticipated to exhibit highest growth rate / CAGR over the forecast period 2020-2027. Factors such as rising population along with rising elderly population would create lucrative growth prospects for the Wound

Dressing Powder market across Asia-Pacific region.
