Abstracts

Global Yoga Tourism Market is valued at approximately USD 154.11 billion in 2021 and is anticipated to grow with a healthy growth rate of more than 5.6% over the forecast period 2022-2029. Traveling specifically for a yoga experience, whether it be postural or spiritual, is known as yoga tourism. The main drivers of the market include the growing popularity of outdoor yoga sessions provided over long weekend breaks, festival time holidays, and seasonal alternatives. The yoga business has really taken up in recent years. It has benefited from a variety of trends, including the rise of leisure and the expansion of boutique fitness, as well as complementing developments and headwinds. Along with this, increasing wellness tourism is also driving the market growth for the Global Yoga Tourism Market over the forecast period.

According to the Yoga Federation of Mysore, there were about 2,000 foreigners learning yoga in the city before the epidemic. 1,700 yoga practitioners and 2,000 general respondents were surveyed by Yoga Alliance, Yoga Journal, and Ipsos Public Affairs. The latest poll by the same source shows that Americans spent USD 16 billion, up from USD 10 billion in 2018, on equipment, lessons, and accessories. Dollar-for-dollar, yoga practitioners spent USD 4.6 billion on apparel and USD 5.8 billion on classes, both of which are increases from a few years ago. Thus, rising purchasing power and growing disposable income of customers is also creating lucrative growth opportunities for the market over the forecast period. However, high costs and lack of skilled professionals in the market are restraining the market growth over the forecast period.

The key regions considered for the Global Yoga Tourism Market study include Asia Pacific, North America, Europe, Latin America, and Rest of the World. The market is dominated by Asia Pacific over the forecast period. The United Nations World Tourism

Organization (UNWTO) data shows that outbound passengers from Asia Pacific in year 2020 make up around 37.0% of all tourists worldwide, with spending on international travel tripling in the past ten years (APAC). Practically every aspect of the health business has been influenced by Asian healing theories and practises for decades, from yoga and Ayurveda to traditional Chinese medicine's concept of balance and vitality. The rising popularity of holistic therapies that encourage health and wellness travel is one of the main factors driving the yoga tourism industry in North America. The market position is also predicted to improve over the course of the projection period due to the rising significance of both physical and mental health as well as the high level of disposable income in this area.
