Report Overview

The Global Bikes Market encompasses all bicycles designed for personal and recreational use, transportation, fitness, and sports activities. This market includes a wide variety of bicycle types such as road bikes, mountain bikes, hybrid bikes, BMX bikes, folding bikes, and electric bicycles (e-bikes). The market covers both the sale of complete bicycles and the distribution of bicycle parts and accessories. It does not include motorized vehicles such as motorcycles or scooters, nor does it encompass bike-sharing services, which belong to a separate market category. The global Bikes market size is projected to reach US$ 69884.76 Million by 2030 from US$ 61668.04 million in 2023 at a CAGR of 2.55% during 2024-2030. million vehicles gradually increased to 143.48 million vehicles in 2030. Bicycles are seen as a solution to traffic congestion and a convenient, environmentally friendly mode of transportation. Bike-sharing projects have become an important driving force for the development of the bicycle manufacturing market in the past few years. In addition, with the increase in global health awareness, More and more people are choosing to ride bicycles to stay healthy. Governments and health organizations have been promoting cycling as a form of exercise, which has driven the demand for traditional bicycles and electric bicycles for leisure and fitness purposes. The growing popularity of e-bikes is another key factor driving the market growth. E-bikes offer convenience and ease, especially for long commutes or hilly terrains, making them attractive to a wider range of people. Battery efficiency and motor system Technological innovations have also enhanced the appeal of electric bikes, contributing to the overall growth of the bike market.

On basis of geography, the Bikes market is segmented into North America, Europe, Asia-Pacific, South America, Middle East and Africa, etc. In 2023, the Asia-Pacific market contributed the highest revenue to the market and accounted for 56.81% of the entire market. Asia Pacific is home to some of the world?s largest bicycle manufacturers, particularly in China, Taiwan, and India. These countries have mature production capabilities that allow for cost-effective manufacturing and distribution in the region and globally. Governments in Asia Pacific, such as those in China and Japan, are actively promoting bicycles to reduce pollution and traffic congestion. In highly urbanized and densely populated areas, bicycles offer an affordable and practical solution for daily commuting, driving high demand across the Asia Pacific region.

According to our calculations, the CR5 and HHI of the global Bikes market in 2023 will be 20.20% and 0.89% respectively, showing a low market concentration.
