Abstracts

Enterprise valuation service refers to the service provided by professional institutions or experts to evaluate the current market value of an enterprise based on a series of financial analysis methods, market data and industry background. This service provides investors, management or other stakeholders with professional opinions on the fair market value of an enterprise by comprehensively considering factors such as the assets, liabilities, cash flow, profitability, growth potential and market environment of the enterprise, and supports decision-making such as investment, mergers and acquisitions, financing or sales. The corporate valuation services market is driven by several factors including increasing M&A activity globally, rising need for transparency in financial reporting, surge in PE/VC investments, and technological advancements in big data & AI space. However, lack of standardization and harmonization in the valuation processes could hinder the market growth during the forecast period. North America dominated the corporate valuation services market with the majority market share followed by Europe and APAC respectively. This can be attributed to presence of large number of valuation service providers in developed countries like U.S., UK, Germany, France, etc. Also, the high level of awareness about corporate valuation services coupled with favorable regulatory framework supports the regional market growth. On the other hand, developing markets like China, India, Brazil will observe significant growth rate due to improving economic conditions and regulatory mandates towards IFRS convergence.

The global Corporate Valuation Service market size was estimated at USD 2658.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 5.40% during the forecast period.
