Report Overview

Dimethicone PEG-8 Beeswax is a complex cosmetic ingredient that serves multiple purposes in skincare and hair care products. It is a combination of three distinct components: dimethicone, PEG-8, and beeswax. Dimethicone is a silicone-based polymer that provides a smooth, non-greasy texture and helps to create a protective barrier on the skin or hair, reducing friction and preventing moisture loss. PEG-8, or polyethylene glycol, is a water-soluble compound that acts as a humectant, helping to retain moisture within the skin or hair structure. Beeswax is a natural ingredient derived from honeybee hives, known for its emollient properties, which can help to soften and condition the skin or hair.
