Report Overview

A dog teething toy is a toy tool specially designed to meet the chewing and teething needs of dogs. It is usually made of strong and bite-resistant materials, such as rubber, silicone or nylon, with certain elasticity and durability. The role of teething toys is to help dogs relieve gum itching and discomfort during tooth growth. When dogs chew teething toys, their teeth will rub against the surface of the material, which helps to remove tartar and residual food in the mouth, while promoting healthy growth and strengthening of teeth. Teething toys can also satisfy dogs' desire to chew, relieve their anxiety and stress, and prevent them from chewing furniture or other items. In addition, teething toys can provide entertainment and diversion for dogs, keeping them happy and active. It is important to choose a teething toy that is appropriate for your dog's age and size to ensure it is safe and effective.
