Abstracts

Corporate digital coaching platforms refer to digital tools that use online technology and data analysis to provide personalized coaching and career development support to corporate employees and leaders. These platforms usually combine video conferencing, instant messaging, progress tracking and other functions to help employees improve their skills, enhance leadership, and solve workplace challenges. Through digital coaching platforms, companies can more efficiently provide continuous employee development plans, promote the improvement of overall organizational performance, and also provide employees with flexible and convenient growth opportunities. Corporate digital coaching platforms are becoming a key component of modern corporate development strategies, providing employees with flexible and personalized learning and development opportunities, helping them to continuously improve their skills and cope with challenges in a rapidly changing work environment. This digital approach breaks the time and space limitations of traditional coaching, allowing companies to cover a wider range of employee groups, while also accurately analyzing and optimizing coaching results in a data-driven manner. However, the success of the platform depends on the support of corporate culture and the active participation of employees. Therefore, when introducing these platforms, companies need to ensure that they are aligned with organizational goals and employee needs in order to maximize return on investment.

The global Enterprise Digital Coaching Platform market size was estimated at USD 1188.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 13.00% during the forecast period.

This report offers a comprehensive and in-depth analysis of the global Enterprise Digital Coaching Platform market, covering all critical facets from a broad macroeconomic
