Abstracts

Biodegradable chewing gum is a type of chewing gum made with natural, plant-based ingredients that decompose more quickly and safely when discarded, unlike conventional gum that contains synthetic materials (such as plastics) that can take years to break down. Biodegradable gums aim to reduce the environmental impact of gum waste, which is a significant problem because traditional gum base ingredients do not biodegrade easily and can contribute to litter in the environment.

The global Biodegradable Chewing Gum market size was estimated at USD 1561.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 9.00% during the forecast period.
