Abstracts

Bionaphtha is a by-product of HVO (hydrotreated vegetable oil) and SAF (sustainable aviation fuel) production. It can be used in the petrochemicals sector to produce renewable polymers or can be blended with gasoline. When producing HVO, the yield of bionaphtha can be up to 10pc (though often it's lower) while this share can grow when producing SAF. While availability is currently limited, production is set to grow in line with rising capacity for HVO and SAF. The market for renewable fuels and petrochemicals is therefore rapidly developing, giving bionaphtha an emerging role in the energy transition.

The global Bionaphtha (Bio-based Naphtha) market size was estimated at USD 923.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 14.50% during the forecast period.
