Abstracts

Boba Tea is a tea-based drink that originated in Taiwan in the early 1980s. Taiwanese immigrants brought it to the United States in the 1990s, initially in California through regions like Los Angeles County, but the drink has also spread to other countries where there is a large East Asian diaspora population. Bubble tea most commonly consists of tea accompanied by chewy tapioca balls ("boba" or "pearls"), but it can be made with other toppings as well, such as grass jelly, aloe vera, red bean, or popping boba. It has many varieties and flavors, but the two most popular varieties are pearl black milk tea and pearl green milk tea ("pearl" signifies the tapioca balls at the bottom). Key factors propelling the bubble tea market growth can be identified as the rising consumption of tea and nootropic drinks amongst the working-class populace and the students, coupled with zero fat and low-calorie contents made available at bubble tea stores, which is a prime factor fueling the demand for bubble tea .

The global Boba Tea market size was estimated at USD 3305.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6.50% during the forecast period.
