Report Overview

Business Certification is the formal attestation or confirmation of certain characteristics of an object, person, or organization. This confirmation is often, but not always, provided by some form of external review, education, assessment, or audit. Accreditation is a specific organization's process of certification. According to the U.S. National Council on Measurement in Education, a certification test is a credentialing test used to determine whether individuals are knowledgeable enough in a given occupational area to be labeled 'competent to practice' in that area. In first-party certification, an individual or organization providing the good or service offers assurance that it meets certain claims. In second-party certification, an association to which the individual or organization belongs provides the assurance. Third-party certification involves an independent assessment declaring that specified requirements pertaining to a product, person, process, or management system have been met.

The global Business Certification market size was estimated at USD 49200 million in 2023 and is projected to reach USD 78982.45 million by 2032, exhibiting a CAGR of 5.40% during the forecast period.

North America Business Certification market size was estimated at USD 14034.36 million in 2023, at a CAGR of 4.63% during the forecast period of 2024 through 2032.
