Abstracts

Carob powder refers to a powdered form of the carob pod, a sweet and edible fruit obtained from the carob tree (Ceratonia siliqua). The pod is first dried and then ground into a fine powder. Carob powder is often used as a substitute for cocoa powder due to its similar appearance and taste. It is known for its natural sweetness, nutty flavor, and rich brown color. Carob powder is commonly utilized as an ingredient in various food products, including baked goods, desserts, beverages, and confectionery, offering a healthier alternative to cocoa with no caffeine and lower fat content. The industry trend of carob powder is driven by the increasing demand for natural and healthier food alternatives. As consumers look for alternatives to cocoa powder, carob powder has gained popularity due to its unique flavor profile and nutritional benefits. The trend is fueled by the rising awareness of carob's natural sweetness, high fiber content, and absence of caffeine. Additionally, there is an increasing focus on plant-based and allergen-free ingredients, driving the use of carob powder as a suitable substitute for individuals with allergies or dietary restrictions. The industry is also exploring the use of carob powder as a functional ingredient, highlighting its potential health-promoting properties.
