Abstracts

A Comics App is a digital platform or mobile application designed to provide access to comic books, graphic novels, and manga for reading, purchasing, and sometimes even creating or sharing. These apps typically offer a wide range of features to enhance the reading experience and make comic content more accessible. Users can browse and read from a vast collection of comics, which might include different genres such as superhero, fantasy, horror, and more. Some apps offer free comics while others have premium content available through in-app purchases, subscriptions, or pay-per-issue models. The comics app industry is witnessing pronounced trends driven by technology integration and evolving user demands: AI applications are rapidly penetrating the sector, with 80% of platforms expected to adopt AI for script generation and personalized recommendations by 2025, while VR/AR technologies are creating immersive experience. Business models are shifting toward diversification, with subscription users accounting for 28% in 2025, complemented by growing ad revenue and booming IP derivative development. Additionally, vertical content segmentation and mobile-optimized vertical scrolling formats have become mainstream. Opportunities abound in global expansion, especially in emerging markets like Southeast Asia and the Middle East; meanwhile, the UGC ecosystem thrives? Webtoon has 24 million creators and 55 million works? and niche segments like family shared reading and professional creation tools offer new growth avenues. However, the industry faces notable challenges: copyright infringement remains rampant, with 2022 infringement cases up 30% year-on-year, despite strengthened legal efforts; content homogenization is severe, as urban, romance, and fantasy genres account for over 80% of the market, while original works only make up 20%; stringent content censorship has lowered approval rates to 60%, and user data security risks persist.

The global Comics App market size was estimated at USD 5396.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 8.40% during the forecast period.
