Abstracts

Commercial floor polishers are specialized industrial-grade machines designed for large-scale floor maintenance, which utilize rotating brushes or pads combined with cleaning solutions, polishes, or waxes to clean, buff, polish, and restore the appearance of hard flooring surfaces such as terrazzo, marble, vinyl, and concrete across commercial, institutional, and industrial environments; these machines vary significantly in size, power source (electric, battery, or propane), and functionality, ranging from single-speed burnishers for high-gloss finishing to multi-speed scrubbers that combine cleaning and polishing in a single operation, and are distinguished from residential units by their higher durability, larger working paths, extended runtimes, and advanced features like variable speed controls, solution dispensing systems, and vacuum recovery for wet/dry operation.
