Abstracts

The 2025 U.S. tariff policies introduce profound uncertainty into the global economic landscape. This report critically examines the implications of recent tariff adjustments and international strategic countermeasures on Criss-Cross Back Sports Bra competitive dynamics, regional economic interdependencies, and supply chain reconfigurations. A criss-cross back sports bra is a sports bra with cross-straps designed to provide women with better support and stability, especially during high-intensity exercise. Criss-cross back sports bras are usually made of stretchy fabrics to ensure comfort and breathability, making them suitable for a variety of sports activities such as running and fitness training. The growth of the criss-cross back sports bra market is mainly driven by the continued rise in women's fitness craze and the increasing demand for functional and fashionable sportswear. As consumers' requirements for comfort, support and aesthetics of sports equipment continue to increase, the criss-cross back design has become a popular choice for medium and high-intensity sports scenes due to its excellent stability, pressure dispersion ability and fashionable appearance. At the same time, the promotion of social media has accelerated the popularization of product awareness, and the brand's continuous innovation in fabric technology and style design has further stimulated market vitality and consumer preferences.

The global Criss-Cross Back Sports Bra market size was estimated at USD 818.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6.90% during the forecast period.

This report offers a comprehensive and in-depth analysis of the global Criss-Cross Back Sports Bra market, covering all critical facets from a broad macroeconomic overview to detailed micro-level insights. It examines market size, competitive landscape, emerging development trends, niche segments, key drivers and challenges, as well as conducts
