Abstracts

In 2024, global cross-border car rental production services reached approximately 20 billion kilometers, with an average global market price of around US$1.5 per kilometer. Cross-border car rental services provide users with cross-border vehicle rental services, typically including online booking, multilingual support, international driver's license verification, insurance coverage, and localized pickup and return services. These services aim to help travelers and business people conveniently rent vehicles and travel freely in overseas destinations. These services typically partner with global car rental companies, cover multiple countries and regions, and offer additional services such as GPS navigation and roadside assistance to meet the diverse cross-border driving needs of different users.The cross-border car rental service market continues to show a positive outlook with stable growth momentum. This growth is primarily driven by the steady recovery and increase in global business travel and leisure tourism demand, which in turn fuels cross-border travel needs. Meanwhile, large rental companies continue to expand their global service networks and enhance service convenience and user experience through digital technologies. In the future, the industry will further develop towards intelligent and personalized solutions, and deeply integrate with areas such as shared mobility and electric vehicles. For example, it will integrate multiple vehicle options and cross-border service packages through applications to meet users' growing expectations for a seamless travel experience.

The global Cross-border Car Rental Services market size was estimated at USD 29851.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 5.30% during the forecast period.

This report offers a comprehensive and in-depth analysis of the global Cross-border Car Rental Services market, covering all critical facets from a broad macroeconomic
