Abstracts

A label is a piece of paper, plastic film, cloth, metal, or other material affixed to a container or product, on which is written or printed information or symbols about the product or item. A laundry symbol, also called a care symbol, is a pictogram which represents a method of washing, for example drying, dry-cleaning and ironing clothing. Such symbols are written on labels, known as care labels or care tags, attached to clothing to indicate how a particular item should best be cleaned. Standard symbols for these care labels differ by region. In some standards, pictograms coexist with or are complemented by written instructions.Custom clothing labels have been gaining increasing popularity in the market, reflecting consumers" continuous pursuit of personalization and uniqueness. With the constant evolution of the fashion industry, brands and designers are placing greater emphasis on customized labels to showcase their distinctive styles and brand images. These labels are not just a form of identification on garments; they are also crucial tools for conveying brand messages and building customer loyalty. Consumers are more inclined to purchase clothing with custom labels as they represent high quality, professionalism, and unique design. Consequently, custom clothing labels have become a significant trend in the fashion industry, and brands and designers should actively seize this opportunity to add unique value to their products.

The global Custom Clothing Labels market size was estimated at USD 546.0 million in 2025 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 3.10% during the forecast period.
