Report Overview:

Cytidine Diphosphate Choline (CDP-Choline) is a novel nutrient with a broad spectrum of benefits for conditions associated with symptoms of neurological dysfunction. An endogenous compound, citicoline is an essential intermediate in the synthesis of cell membrane phospholipids and its formation is the rate-limiting step in phosphatidylcholine synthesis. It plays several important roles in human physiology, including enhancement of structural integrity and signaling for cell membranes, support of acetylcholine synthesis, and synthesis of betaine, a methyl donor. Citicoline provides the brain with a source of choline and cytidine, which are efficiently used in the Kennedy cycle to generate phospholipids. It is able to attenuate the production of free radicals in ischemic conditions, while it also stimulates glutathione synthesis and the activity of glutathione reductase. Studies in animals and humans provide evidence of citicoline's ability to promote learning and memory and improve cognitive impairment in Alzheimer's and Parkinson's disease, as well as in victims of mild to moderate stroke and cerebral ischemia. Citicoline administration may also reduce the duration of coma and the severity of mental and motor deficits associated with traumatic head injuries.

The Global Cytidine Diphosphate Choline (CDP-Choline) Market Size was estimated at USD 372.59 million in 2023 and is projected to reach USD 719.81 million by 2029, exhibiting a CAGR of 11.60% during the forecast period.
