Report Overview

Dental alignment mouthpieces are oral devices designed to help correct misalignments of the teeth and jaws, providing orthodontic treatment without the need for traditional braces. These mouthpieces are typically custom-made to fit each individual's mouth and are worn for a specified period to gradually shift the teeth into the desired position. They are commonly used to address issues such as overcrowding, gaps between teeth, overbites, underbites, and crossbites. Dental alignment mouthpieces offer a more discreet and convenient alternative to traditional braces, making them popular among individuals seeking orthodontic treatment.
