Abstracts

Double coated polyester tape is a pressure-sensitive adhesive product featuring a thin, durable polyester film carrier coated on both sides with aggressive adhesive layers, typically acrylic or rubber-based, designed for permanent bonding applications where high tensile strength, temperature resistance, and dimensional stability are required. This type of tape functions as an invisible fastening solution in industries such as electronics, automotive, signage, and construction, enabling the mounting, joining, or sealing of dissimilar materials?including metals, plastics, glass, and composites?without mechanical fasteners or liquid adhesives. Its key characteristics include resistance to solvents, moisture, and UV light, along with consistent performance across a wide temperature range, making it suitable for both interior and exterior applications where reliability and longevity are critical.

The global Double Coated Polyester Tape market size was estimated at USD 340.2 million in 2024 and is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 5.15% during the forecast period.
